FROM THE PASTOR

WEEKLY REFLECTION

“God put Abraham to the test.” How far are you willing to go? If I’m candid with myself, sacrifice, in theory, is great, but I want to live my own life. That isn’t the “Christian thing to say,” but it is true. That is an area of my life that still needs conversion. Abraham “pitched off the edge of the cliff,” and trusted the Lord with the gift of his precious son. Even though it would be an immeasurable loss, Abraham trusted. In theory, I want to live that way - I don’t in practice. How do I get there? Start with considering what you are holding onto tightly that is negatively impacting peace with the Lord, or other relationships. Is it worth your salvation, could you let something go for a week and see what happens? Give it a try as we continue in this season of Lent.

Please be assured of my prayers this week. - Fr. Capuano

CONDOLENCES

Please pray for the gentle repose of the soul of our dear Pauline Sorenson, Administrative Assistant for St. John & St. Patrick for many years. The family will receive friends Monday, February 26th 4:00 PM - 7:00 PM at Nelsen Funeral Home. A Mass of Christian Burial will be offered on Tuesday, February 27th at 10:00 AM at Saint John. Interment to follow at Forest Lawn Cemetery and reception following the burial back at Saint John.

Parish Bulletin

Thank you for your kind patience and understanding as we seek to provide consistent information to our communities. Thank you to those who have attempted to provide constructive feedback, which is always welcome. The Bulletin is not fixed, and there will be regular updates as we see what works and what doesn’t. As I have consistently attempted to convey, please speak with me directly if you have concerns or ideas about the bulletin, Fr. Capuano: bcapauno@richmondcluster.org.

A REMINDER

Parish staff will never ask you for help purchasing gift cards or ask you to send money over the internet. Please check where emails are coming from and pay attention to how things are signed in the email body. If an email does not come from bcapauno@richmonddiocese.org, or bcapauno@richmondcluster.org, it did not come from me. I also sign emails in the same way, see end of this message. Email scams are a regular occurrence these days, please stay safe. When in doubt, speak with the individual who seems to be requesting something from you.

UNA NOTA DEL PÁRROCO

Dios puso a prueba a Abraham”. ¿Hasta dónde estás dispuesto a llegar? Si soy sincero conmigo mismo, el sacrificio, en teoría, es genial, pero quiero vivir mi propia vida. Eso no es “lo que hay que decir cristiano”, pero es verdad. Ésa es un área de mi vida que todavía necesita conversión. Abraham “se lanzó desde el borde del precipicio” y confió al Señor el regalo de su precioso hijo. Aunque sería una pérdida inmensurable, Abraham confió. En teoría, quiero vivir de esa manera; en la práctica, no es así.

¿Como llego hasta ahí? Comience por considerar aquello a lo que se aferra con fuerza y que está impactando negativamente la paz con el Señor u otras relaciones. ¿Vale la pena tu salvación? ¿Podrías dejar algo así durante una semana y ver qué pasa? Pruébalo mientras continuamos en esta temporada de Cuaresma.

Tengan la seguridad de mis oraciones esta semana.

- P. Capuano
